THE TERRITORIES.

In Montana, the ord[illegible] prohibiting hurdy houses is likely to become a law.

Five hundred barrels of flour await transportation at the Yakima City mills.

Salt Lake whisky has been found to contain, by careful analysis, strychnine, alkali, sage, and Sevier sea serpents in countless numbers.

Brigham Young is one of the signers to a petition for the abolishment of the liquor traffic in Salt Lake City, except for medicinal purposes.

The Salt Lake, Sevier and Pioche railroad will be completed to the Lake by the glorious Fourth, and an excursion party will celebrate the event.

The Cheyenne Leader (Neb.) announces a course of lectures by George Francis Train, on "Experiences in an American Bastile," at $150 per night.

Salt Lake mothers, since the departure of the circus, find it necessary to pour lead into the shoes of their boys, to prevent their heels from flying over their heads.

Grasshoppers and squirrels are found in many grain fields in Walla Walla valley, and are doing some damage. In a few places they have taken the grain clean for acres.

A Chinawoman was sold at auction on Granite Creek, Idaho, the other day. The bidding was spirited, and she was finally knocked down to a Chinaman named Six for $375.

The town of Bismarck, on the Missouri river at the contemplated Northern Pacific railroad crossing, is building upon one of the most beautiful sites in the West, and now contains 700 inhabitants.

Even the Digger Indians complain of the Asiatic competition. The Diggers have heretofore had and enjoyed a monopoly of the wild blackberry trade, but now they find strong competition from the Chinese.

The Fairplay Sentinel, which has been claiming to be the "highest" paper in the world, must stop blowing about its altitude, for New Mexico has a newspaper office 440 feet further from sea level than the Sentinel. It is the Elizabethtown Railway Press and Telegraph.

A letter in the Advocate from Black River, W. T., says the camp meeting at that place "was a grand success. Near twenty have united with the Church. Many have been converted, and some professed the blessing of perfect love. Brother McPheters rendered efficient service at this meeting."

Mr. David Diggins—an old Walla Wallian—has returned home after an eight months visit to Pennsylvania. He says that we would have had a large influx of immigrants had they not been frightened by the foolish stories that have been so extensively circulated with regard to Indian troubles here. The people in the States suppose that we are right in the midst of an Indian war. He also says that he passed large quantities of arms, ammunition, and cannon, which had been shipped from the railroad to Boise City, and from thence to Walula.

A True Charity.

HARRISBURG, June 18, 1873.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Before leaving Portland this morning I saw two of the Catholic Sisters with a little girl. As they came on the railroad company's ferryboat I noticed their meek appearance, but I was more impressed with their humane mission. It seemed, aside from the suggestive circumstances of the incident, that the delicate girl had felt the force of misfortune. I at once thought of our many sectarian boasts and jealous responses, as they resound from hall to hall. I thought of our assumptions of supremacy [illegible], and our reproaches there, and of the gaudy paraphernalia of some of our Christian charities in contrast with that meek simplicity which seeks to aid the most needy, and impart cheer to the hopeless. A moment passed, and I thought of an incident of our Masonic proceedings which occurred a few days ago. It was this: On considering a courteous and opportune proposition from the ladies of Portland in favor of the "orphan's relief fund," the Grand Lodge was addressed by one of its members, who objected to a favorable response to the proposal, on the ground that any contribution to such a sphere would be out of the bounds of Masonic charity. But this served only to brighten the intuitions of the Lodge, and to inspire its members with a more broad and vital philanthropy. Hence that body observed that "even small causes have their great effects," "that we too often err in due heed of the little causes of good or evil," on account of the seeming smallness of their prospective consequences; and, thence, aspire to control those larger and perhaps complicated causes which baffle our skill. If we cannot question the meritorious object of a charity, nor the faith of its executive guardians, then our generous impulses as men must not be too far restrained by Masonic lines and circles in our answer to the orphan's appeal.

J. C. SNODGRASS.

RECONCILIATION AND GOOD WILL.—Recently in Charleston, S. C., there was a reorganization of the Washington Light Infantry, and the Rev. A. Toomer Porter made a speech, of which the following is an abstract: "Again the emblem of our nationality waves with acceptance over our line, and floats as in days of yore over our public buildings, and from those fortresses of strength and power, our press offices. Our escort bears testimony to our nationality, and is in command of one who has proven that in honorable warfare he was a foeman worthy of our steel. The representatives of the government, both in the civil and military arms, have been with us on the platform, our honored and welcome guests. Thus have we given evidence of our reconciliation and good will. We have said to-day that we are not strangers or aliens, but henceforth we mean to be parts and parcels of this great country and this government, that its interests are our interests, its prosperity is our prosperity, its power and renown are our power and renown." Would that South Carolina were more prolific of Rev. Mr. Porters!

Lord Erskine, according to Rogers, was next to Sydney Smith, the wittiest man he ever knew. "To all letters soliciting his 'subscription,' Erskine had one form of reply. Writing a course hand, with lines widely apart, he said: 'Sir, I feel much honored by your application to me, and I beg to subscribe—here the reader had to turn over the leaf—myself your very obedient servant.' He once said, very seriously, 'Rogers, when the hour comes that all secrets shall be revealed, we shall know the reason why—shoes are always made too tight.' And when some one remarked that Lord Mahon had died worth two hundred thousand pounds, Erskine said: 'Well, that's a very pretty sum to begin the next world with.'"

Chicago's monster noise closed on the 7th inst. A dispatch of that date says:

The rebuilding jubilee ended to-day with excursions to Calumet Harbor by rail and steamers, which were participated in by a considerable number of distinguished visitors and prominent citizens. Most of the visitors from the country left for home to-day. This evening a benefit concert was given Mr. Gilmore. About 4,000 people were present. The programme was made up from those of the jubilee concerts, the chorus and orchestra being the same as on those occasions, except as to numbers. Each were reduced about one third. The music was much more effective.

OREGON.

The late rains are said to have raised the upper Wallamet about eight feet, and the rise still continued at Salem last Wednesday night.

A very pleasant strawberry and ice cream festival was given at Salem on Wednesday evening, by the ladies of St. Paul, Episcopal Church.

From all parts of the valley we hear reports of damage to the most forward wheat fields by the heavy rainfall of Monday night and Tuesday last.

Commencement exercises at the Academy of the Sacred Heart in Salem will take place on Monday, June 20th, and Tuesday, July 1st, instead of next Monday and Tuesday, as heretofore published.

Junction City is going to celebrate the Fourth of July and have the Aurora brass band of 22 members engaged, and are making extensive preparations. Dinner free in the woods. There will be a grand ball at night. Good speakers are engaged and the programme will be made out in a few days.

Calapooia Lodge, No. 43, I. O. O. F., was instituted by C. N. Terry, Grand Secretary, at Brownsville, Oregon, June 17, 1873, with nine charter members. The following were duly installed officers: A. C. Hausman, N. G., John Carolin, V. G., J. S. Gilbert, Secretary, J. B. Gross, Treasurer.

The Wallamet Baptist Association met in Salem last Wednesday. The Statesman says: "The introductory sermon was preached by Rev. A. R. Medbury of Portland. Mr. Medbury is rapidly making for himself a reputation as one of the finest and most effective pulpit orators in the State, and his sermon fully sustained the position. At the afternoon session letters from the various Churches composing the body were read, and delegates enrolled. We shall hope to give the statistical statement to-morrow. The officers of last year were all re-elected: Rev. George C. Chandler, Moderator; Henry Warren, Treasurer; and W. C. Johnson, Clerk, the latter assisted by Rev. J. A. Wirth. The Committees on Periodicals and Publications, and on Sunday Schools, made reports, which were adopted. Delegates were received from, and appointed to, other Baptist Associations in the State and Washington Territory. It was voted to hold the next annual meeting at Forest Grove."

Letter from Indian Agent Fairchild.

SILETZ INDIAN AGENCY, June 16, 1873.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Dear Sir: I notice in the WEEKLY OREGONIAN of June 7th, among the items from Coos Bay, the statement that "One or two hundred Indians have made their appearance on Coos Bay the past week, principally from the Siletz Reservation." As such a statement, if true, would reflect little credit on the Agent of this Reservation, I beg leave to say that the Indians [illegible] to are not from the Siletz. I do not know who they belong; they certainly do not belong here.

Knowing the excited state of public feeling in relation to Indians, I have been ext[illegible] ly cautious in permitting them to leave, and I am satisfied there are not now at Coos Bay more than fifteen Indians who have been on this Reservation since I have had charge, and the greater part of these are women absent without leave. In this connection, permit me to allude to a communication forwarded some days since, by Superintendent Odeneal, containing the proceedings of a citizens' meeting held at Gardiner, near the mouth of the Umpqua river, "to take steps to secure the removal of the Indians in the vicinity," in which, after stating that the Indians were numerous and impudent, and had commenced to steal, it was determined, "if steps were not immediately taken to remove and keep them on the Reservation till all fear of danger is passed, to take violent measures to accomplish their removal," and one week was given the Indians to leave.

By direction of the Superintendent I immediately organized a force to proceed to the scene of threatened hostilities, scarcity of horses compelling us to stop some of our teams and delay our spring work to furnish necessary transportation. The party hastened to the place indicated and found not a single Siletz Indian—only two or three old squaws—but hearing of fifteen or twenty at Coos Bay, extended their trip there, and will doubtless return in a few days, bringing all Indians belonging to this Reservation. Now, to say nothing of the loss and inconvenience consequent upon the suspension of necessary work, and the injury to our best horses from forced marches, the expense of this trip is no trifle and utterly unnecessary. The nearest approach to trouble I could hear of, was caused by a resident of that vicinity, who having missed his horse one morning, of course accused the Indians of stealing him, and to punish them as well as reimburse himself, took by force a horse from them, being careful to select a squaw as the most proper representative of her race on which to execute justice. Not satisfied with this, he indulged in so many threats against all Indians that he finally became somewhat uneasy, particularly as his horse returned, and it became evident that he had never been stolen at all. Fearing some unpleasant inquiries into the matter, he hit upon the usual method of covering a wrong done an Indian, and proclaimed an impending Indian war. The excited state of public feeling made it easy to persuade the people that danger really existed, and the truculent message referred to was the result. The Siletz Indians are quiet, peaceable and industrious, and earnestly anxious to improve their condition, tractable and obedient to their Agent. Their greatest anxiety just now is to have schools established that their children may enjoy advantages of which they have been deprived, and that the Government build them a saw mill that they may build good houses and prepare for the time when they will be required to take care of themselves. Both these requests are but reasonable, and the Government owes it to these Indians to repair in some measure the many years it has neglected them. Very truly yours,

J. H. FAIRCHILD, U. S. Indian Agent.

A FEARFUL STORY OF CRUELTY.—A fearful story is told of the Indian chief and robber of Tepic, Mexico, Lozada, which has but recently been brought before the public, and which, for cruelty, cannot find a parallel. In the small village of San Luis, near Tepic, there has been discovered a subterranean apartment, constructed especially for the prosecution of horrible crimes, and in this was found, not long since, a man, who, for fourteen years, had not seen the light of day. Unshaven, unwashed, almost double by feebleness, and withal bereft of sense, when discovered, he is said to have had more the appearance of a wild animal than of humanity. From motives of revenge Lozada had him incarcerated in this sepulcher, and formerly would seem to have taken especial pleasure in witnessing the torturing of this unhappy man, visiting him daily for this purpose, taunting him and mocking him in his helpless misery. The wretched man was placed in charge of a physician, who is obliged to use the utmost prudence in bringing him forth from his living tomb to enjoy once more the liberties of life, and, even with the greatest care, it is thought his enfeebled system will not sustain the shock such a change may bring.

EASTERN DATES TO JUNE 19.

WASHINGTON CITY.

A. B. Meacham to Return

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Meacham, Peace Commissioner, received a telegraphic summons to-day to appear before the Military Commission to try the Modocs, and left Washington for the Pacific coast to-night.

EASTERN STATES.

Susan B. Anthony in Court.

CANANDAIGUA, N. Y., June 18.—The court declined to submit the case of Susan B. Anthony to the jury on any question whatever, and directed them to render a verdict of guilty against the defendant. The counsel for Miss Anthony requested the clerk to poll the jury, which was denied by the court, and a verdict of guilty was rendered. Defendant's counsel excepted to the decree and action of the court, and insisted on a consideration given to the law by a decision, that there had been only a violation of State law, and that the U. S. Court had no jurisdiction. Sentence has not yet been pronounced.

At 2 o'clock P. M. to-day, the [illegible] of the United States against Jones, Marsh and Hall, inspectors of [illegible], who registered the names and received the votes of Miss Anthony & Co., defendants, came up for trial. The proof on the part of the prosecution was similar to that in the case of Miss Anthony. Judge Hunt announced his decision overruling the defence, and stated that instead of ordering a verdict, as in the case of Miss Anthony, he would submit the case to the jury with instructions. There was no justification for the acts of the defendants, and in effect they were all guilty, and stated to the jury that they could retire for deliberation. The court took a recess of half an hour, after the expiration of which the jury came in not agreed. They were sent out again, with instructions that unless they agreed within a few minutes the court would adjourn till morning.

The Boston Wool Market.

BOSTON, June 18.—The wool market during the past [illegible] has shown considerable firmness, with good demand for domestic wools. There is an increased inquiry for [illegible], dealers disposing of California wool to manufacturers as fast as it comes to hand. Three hundred thousand pounds of spring sold at 23@25c, including about 100,000 pounds of choice Northern at 25c. Fall, California, 19c, superfine and extra pulled, 23@53c; a choice lot of superfine at 56c.

The Memphis Cholera Market.

MEMPHIS, June 18.—The weather is [illegible] to-day, and for the first time within two weeks no rain fell. People are more hopeful with regard to the cholera. Many believe that a few days of clear weather will bring a release from all danger. There were 15 interments to-day—11 of cholera.

Cholera in Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, June 18.—Two deaths from [illegible] with cholera symptoms, occurred to-day, both [illegible].

Death from Yellow Fever in Brooklyn.

NEW YORK, June 18.—James Ennis died yesterday of yellow fever in Brooklyn.

The Isle of Shoals Murderer Convicted.

ALFRED, Maine, June 18.—The jury in the case of Wagner, the alleged Isle of Shoals murderer, to-day brought in a verdict of murder in the first degree.

Heavy Revenue Frauds.

NEW YORK, June 19.—The Custom House authorities are making investigation into an attempt to defraud the revenue by what is characterized as a "heavy and hitherto respectable mercantile house." It seems that the house involved imported from Huddersfield, England, twelve large cases of Mexican shawls, and shipped them to Mexico, seven of which were [illegible] shipped to this port, invoiced from Mexico at $250 a shawl. An examination showed the invoice value of the shawls at Huddersfield to be 106 shillings sterling or about 1,000 per cent. more. The goods are now in the Court [illegible].

Erie Matters.

It is [illegible] that at the [illegible] Alexander Diven, John Taylor Johnston and H[illegible] will be retired from the direction, and [illegible] President, will be chosen Vice President. [illegible], one of the principal [illegible] of Erie in [illegible], [illegible] in New York this month to [illegible] certain [illegible] relative to the Erie and Atlantic and [illegible] Railroad.

Civil Rights.

At a recent meeting of the Police C[illegible] [illegible] colored [illegible] twenty-five able-bodied [illegible] of the Police Dep[illegible]. The C[illegible] will not say yet whether the [illegible] was adopted or not.

Union Pacific Land Grants.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company has not [illegible] in obtaining patents for the [illegible] of their [illegible] [illegible] but not yet patented. There are about [illegible] [illegible] in their original grant, and up to the [illegible] patents have been [illegible] hundred [illegible] and one million [illegible] only of [illegible] lying in Nebraska. Of this, [illegible] half the [illegible] was selected by railroad patents, the other half [illegible] withheld, not, however, be[illegible] of the [illegible] Credit Mobilier suit, but because the Government has no information that the road has [illegible] with the terms of the law.

Large Mail Destroyed.

The postmaster at B[illegible]ville, New York, has informed the Postmaster General at Washington [illegible] the mail which left this city at half-past eight on [illegible] by the New York Central and Hudson River Railroads, was all burned before it reached that place. The letter was nearly all [illegible] for delivery in the [illegible], and included, [illegible] the New York mail, forty eight [illegible] of papers, eighty [illegible] of [illegible], and a large [illegible] received at Albany. An investigation has been ordered.

Mr. Meacham's Opinion.

CHICAGO, June 19.—A Washington [illegible] says that Mr. [illegible], one of the Modoc Peace Commissioners, who was wounded at the Canby massacre, will probably attend the coming court-martial of Captain Jack and his confederates. He is a firm believer in the policy of the Government towards the Indians, and says there are white men in California and Oregon, more responsible for the blood of General Canby than Capt. Jack himself is. He is at present engaged in preparing a report of his attempt to pacify the Modocs.

Pacific Mail Matters.

NEW YORK, June 19.—The Pacific Mail Directors [illegible] to-day, and in this connection, there are rumors on the street of a mortgage of six millions of dollars.

Horace Clark Very Ill.

CHICAGO, June 19.—A New York [illegible] says that Horace J. Clark is very low, and his recovery doubtful. Later: A private [illegible] a [illegible] advices in New York, says the physicians [illegible] H. J. Clark better at 12 o'clock to-day.

Spanish Affairs.

MADRID, June 18.—A diplomatic note, announcing to foreign powers the establishment of a Federal Republic, was read at the Council of Ministers to-day, by Senor Muro.

The Cure of Santa Cruz has burned a railroad depot, with 300 passenger and freight cars, at B[illegible].

The Admiralty Court of Cadiz has completed its investigation of the sinking of the [illegible] ship Northfleet by the Spanish steamer Murillo, and has rendered a verdict [illegible] the captain of the Murillo, and suspending his certificate for nine [illegible].

Cluseret in Trouble.

LONDON, June 19.—A correspondent at Brussels telegraphs that the Belgian Government has refused General Cluseret, the French communist, a safe conduct into Belgium, and further informed him, that if he came into the country, he would be arrested and surrendered to the French authorities.

Progress of the New Cable.

LONDON, June 19.—A dispatch from the Great Eastern, dated yesterday noon, reports 443 miles of cable paid out. The ship was then in latitude 53° 20', longitude 20° 36'.

CANADA.

Walking Match.

OTTAWA, June 18.—A walking match took place to-day a distance of forty miles from Ann Prior to Ottawa, for $100 a side, between Pace, an English professional pedestrian, and Sparks, a surveyor. The men started at 4 30, A. M., and when half way, Pace led by half a mile. When ten miles from Ottawa, he suddenly gave out, and Sparks came in winner at 12 29, P. M., having walked the distance within eight hours.

NOVA SCOTIA.

HALIFAX, June 18.—The ship Dorris from N[illegible], arrived this morning. She has six cases of yellow fever on board. One of the crew died on the voyage.

CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 19.—The anti-Chinese primary was organized in the Eleventh Ward last night. Samuel J. Bookstaver was elected President. The object was to adopt a pledge binding candidates for office to sustain the anti-Chinese policy and measures. The Democratic reformers held a small meeting last night, and took measures to organize clubs in the different wards of the city.

E. S. Belden, official reporter for the Fourth District, appointed to take notes on the Modoc trial by the Military Commission will leave on Saturday for Fort Klamath.

Negotiations for the sale of Huntington and Hopkins interest in the Central Pacific Railroad are still pending. It is stated on the best of authority to-day that these gentlemen will not retire from the Board, even should the sale be finally effected.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 19.—S. K. Holman has been appointed agent of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company in this city. He goes to New York for a short time on business, and while gone Mr. Taylor, Treasurer, will act as general agent.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 19.—The Alaska sailed for Panama to-day with a cargo for New York valued at $78,000. She took 33,000 gallons of wine, 5,659 gallons brandy, 550 cases borax, 3,000 cases salmon and 600 barrels flour.

Mr. Sawyer will return a decision to-morrow in the case of Capt. James F. Lewis, of the Crusader, examined for causing the death of a seaman by cruelly beating him.

Clemens Luckert was committed to the Stockton Insane Asylum to-day.

The new gold and silver mines at Calistoga are said to yield $196 per ton. A ton of the ore has been brought here for crushing.

Considerable improvement in Idaho mining stocks are noted by operators and mining within a week or two past. All sales of the stock board during the past week amount to $1,914,000.

A fire broke out to-night in a [illegible] pile of staves on Clay street near East and close to the [illegible]. A strong wind was blowing at the time, and the fire [illegible] communicated with a large hay store-house of [illegible] & Co., and a disastrous conflagration was th[illegible]ed. The building was filled with hay, which was [illegible] all on fire. It is still burning, but the firemen will probably confine the flames to its present locality. It is impossible to estimate the loss, but it will probably reach $6,000. One of the hook and ladder trucks broke down on the way, and two or three men hurt.

INTERIOR CALIFORNIA DISPATCHES.

SANTA CRUZ, June 19.—The town is alive with pleasure-seekers. The stages are crowded daily with new comers.

The heaviest suit ever brought in this county is now pending in the District Court: [illegible] and 105 others, against [illegible] the owners of the [illegible] ranch, near W[illegible]ville, valued at [illegible].

PETALUMA, June 19.—A [illegible] Francisco, fell [illegible] while [illegible] with a [illegible] in a saloon last night. An inquest was held, and a verdict returned of death from heart disease.

SANTA BARBARA, June 19.—The [illegible] Publishing Company will [illegible] a new daily paper in a few days.

Alfred Walk[illegible], of San Luis Obispo [illegible], is announced as a candidate for S[illegible] on the Republican ticket.

WILLAMETTE BAPTIST ASSOCIATION.

TWENTY [illegible] ANNUAL MEETING.

[Reported Expressly for the Oregonian.]

SALEM, June 18, 1873.

The Missionary Baptists of Oregon and Washington Territory have six associations. These bodies are composed of delegates from Churches in certain localities, voluntarily banded together for mutual aid and counsel in extending the work in which they are interested in [illegible]. There is also what is called the State Convention [illegible] al Association, which [illegible]

[illegible]

The W[illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] to-day, in the [illegible] of the Baptist Church [illegible].

[illegible] Dr. Chandler, [illegible] tory of Oregon [illegible] 1848; [illegible] Church, and a few others, who [illegible] for many years. [illegible] Portland, [illegible] Valley, are [illegible]

[illegible] the prosperity of the [illegible] the Association, and Dr. [illegible] propriate [illegible] close of the [illegible] had.

There was one church received into the Association, having its location at Spring Valley in Polk county. The delegate from the church, Rev. J. B. Jones, [illegible] ship. After the church was received, it [illegible] out that it had applied for admission into the Central Association at its last session, but had been refused [illegible] the church would not adopt what is commonly known as the "landmark" doctrine in its practice. The Baptists, as all know, hold that no one is baptized who is not [illegible] hold that no one is baptized unless the rite is administered by a duly [illegible] Baptist church. The [illegible] believe the [illegible] ad ministrator of the [illegible] and [illegible] refuse to [illegible] immersed by other [illegible] without re-baptizing [illegible]. A large majority of the North [illegible], but the South [illegible] upon the topic. The indications are that the Baptists of Oregon are to have a warm time in dealing with the subject, and already a [illegible] is called to di[illegible] and decide the question next October, at Brownsville, in Linn county, where the State Convention meets. The current of feeling in the Willamette Association is against the "landmark" position.

The officers of the Association were all re-elected: Rev. G. C. Chandler, Moderator; W. C. Johnson, Clerk, and Hon. Henry Warren, Treasurer. The report of the latter showed that the Treasury was overdrawn $24.

Mr. Johnson made a vigorous effort to be excused from the Clerkship, but the [illegible] thought he must be kept at work where they had been so accustomed to see him for the last thirty years.

During the afternoon it was voted to hold the next annual meeting at Forest Grove, in Washington county. Dr. Chandler [illegible] remarked that out at Forest Grove they [illegible] all missionaries, including himself, and they [illegible] the delegates to come next year prepared to stay over Sunday.

In the evening Rev. Ezra Fisher preached a sermon upon the doctrine of the resurrection of the body, and its relations to the [illegible] of redemption in Christ. This veteran retained in a very high degree the vigor of mind which characterized his youth, and his great earnestness [illegible] absorbed the attention of all. Mr. Fisher is on his return to the Dalles to take charge of the church at that place.

A collection was taken at the close of the morning service in aid of Home Missions, and at the close of the evening session in aid of the Foreign Mission work. The Willamette Association is supposed more than any other in Oregon, to represent and encourage the missionary spirit, and these collections are to officially show their practical sympathy with all the great organized efforts to evangelize the world.

A noticeable feature of the statistics is the presence of three women as delegates from the churches.

THE BANK OF ENGLAND.—The Bank of England covers five acres of ground, and employs nine hundred clerks. There are no windows on the street. Light is admitted through open courts, no mob could take the bank, therefore, without cannon to batter the immense walls. Large cisterns are sunk in the court, and engines, in perfect order, are always in readiness in case of fire.

AN INTELLIGENT LEGISLATOR.—A candidate in Virginia makes the following announcement: "I Nonce my Self A candidate for the legislator for the Nex sission to Represent the Agreultray and the manucultray intress of the farmers intress of this County and the heavy thaxlation that is on the people of this county, of sevel coints. Henry I Brooks. May the 30, 1873."

The Next Step Demanded

The action of the last Legislature in substituting the ballot for the viva voce system of voting was a step in the right direction. The item of convenience in taking and recording the votes and the certainty that by this means every legal voter will have an opportunity to cast his vote are themselves important considerations in populous places, such as this city. Under the old system, when a full corps of city officers were to be elected so much time was required to call off and register the votes, that it was as much as an ordinary clerk could do to record five or six hundred votes, within the time allowed by law for the polls to remain open. A citizen desiring to vote, frequently had to stand in the line formed for that purpose as much as three hours, awaiting his turn to offer his vote. Now, a much larger number of votes is polled, and yet no one is required to wait for his chance. There is no line formed, but every citizen comes forward and deposits his ballot, gives his name to the clerks and inspectors and retires.

But the most important benefit of the ballot system is that every man is protected in voting as he chooses. The man who depends upon his daily wages for the means of supporting his family is not compelled to cast an open vote under the eye of his employer, and at the peril of losing his situation if he does not vote in accordance with his employer's preferences. No man's vote is known to even the clerks and inspectors of the election, unless he voluntarily makes it known. This is free suffrage, viva voce is not.

But the reform is not yet complete. The next great demand of the community in connection with the right of suffrage, is a good, stringent and thorough going registry law, requiring every voter to have his name registered in books kept for that purpose, as long before the day of the election as he is required to reside in the city to qualify himself as a voter, with a statement of the place of his residence in the city. This would effectually cut off importations from abroad, and stop the colonizing of voters out of their own wards. There cannot be the least doubt that a law of this character vigorously enforced, would have reduced the aggregate vote of this city in Monday's election, three or four hundred at least, and that the Third Ward alone would not have polled so large a vote as it did, by at least two hundred and fifty. That the vote in that ward was from two hundred and fifty to three hundred larger than the whole number of legal voters resident in the ward we believe is the unanimous opinion of those most familiar with the actual population of the ward. This vote was therefore fraudulent, and the result does not represent the will of the people. It is immaterial who was elected or defeated by it, the wrong was perpetrated by somebody, and it will be repeated in the future, unless measures are adopted to make its repetition impossible. This end would be accomplished by a registry act, and so far as we can see, by no other means. The detective system is a failure. A half dozen or so of illegal votes may be found out, and arrested on the day of election, and may be ultimately punished; but this is only a mere handful, and those who escape that day disappear from the city the next, and so escape finally. Give us a good registry law, not for the city alone, but for the State, and with the plain, white-paper ballot, the people will have a reasonably fair show against rings of all kinds and descriptions.

We haven't yet heard the last of poor Gen. Howard's little discrepency in book-keeping. It amounts to little, perhaps, and we should soon forget it if the General were not so quick to defend himself from imaginary attacks upon his integrity. The Freedman's Bureau is a thing of the past. It is very dead, and as a rule, the American people care little about having its affairs resurrected. But General O. O. Howard is out in a card. Noticing a recently-published article concerning his management of the Freedman's Bureau, and certain papers in that connection, he says the sum, between three and four thousand dollars, represented as short in the disbursing officer's account, was unavoidable, and in no way wrong, and that the amount due the Government will be paid as soon as ascertained. As to one certain sum of $33,000, he says the disbursing officer sent in the money, as well as receipts, as soon as the Second Auditor could cancel the vouchers. In conclusion, he avers that all his transactions can be satisfactorily explained.

The latest libel suit is that of General Daniel Pratt, "the great American traveler and students' perpetual candidate for the presidency of the United States," against the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, for publishing in the Christian Union an article from the Yale Courant—in itself a partial forgery—accompanied by comments "abusively styling Mr. Pratt the rival of George Francis Train." The damages are set at $100,000, though it is intimated that one night's use of Plymouth Church, for the delivery of a lecture, with a dollar admission fee, may be accepted as a compromise.

The unterrified Democracy cannot bear success. They had a temporary victory some time ago in West Virginia, and of course immediately began fighting over the spoils. The dissension has now grown so great that all efforts at reconciliation have failed, and war is declared to the bitter end. The Republicans, profiting by the situation are quietly preparing to resume control of affairs, and relegate these quarrelsome gentlemen to the ranks, where it is evident they will do the most good.

It is said that at West Point there is considerable feeling over D. H. Hill's cowardly rejoicing at the murder of Canby and Thomas. What makes the matter worse in the eyes of the cadets is the fact that Hill had a son at the Academy, and the boys think it inconsistent for a man to beg with one hand and strike at the dead with the other. The officers of the army have always been most generous in treatment of their Southern comrades.

Our morning dispatches inform us that the Spanish Government has prepared a note to the powers of the world informing them that the Republic is firmly established and asking recognition. It is quite probable that this message will not meet with such [illegible] indifference as Castelar's letter received.

The reader will remember Samuel Weller's ostler, who wrote his last will and testament upon a stable door. A Tennessee man has published and declared his testamentary intentions upon a paper collar, which passed probate well enough, though it was found a little unhandy for filing.

An Apologist

We are a little surprised to see in the New Northwest an editorial apology for Senator Hipple's conduct. Two or three small and inconsequential papers in the interior, ventured, when only the first part of the story was out, to apologize for him, but these have refrained from doing so since the particulars became fully known. We could reasonably account for the course of the two or three papers alluded to, but we confess our inability to reconcile the sentiments expressed in the New Northwest with the ideas and views that have been heretofore supposed to be entertained by that journal. We do not propose to review the article in question at length, and will only refer to one or two prominent features of it.

The accusation that Mr. Hipple (or Mitchell) was a defaulter when he left Pennsylvania—the least serious of the charges in our estimation, though serious enough—is said by the Northwest to be "in direct opposition to the positive declarations of his business partner to the contrary." This is wholly incorrect. His "business partner" only says the money he took had all been paid back. He does not deny the defalcation, the Senator himself has not denied it in his deliberately prepared defense, nor will he deny it.

"The accusations of adultery, desertion and bigamy" the New Northwest says it does not "propose seriously to discuss," but makes the excuse for the Senator that these are crimes punishable by law, and therefore ought not to be mentioned through the newspapers. In the first place the Statute of Limitations has cut off the legal penalties, so the law is not available, if any person were disposed to invoke it, secondly, it is a new and very bad theory of morals that exempts a man from public criticism so soon as his conduct has reached that degree of criminality which will justify a proceeding in the criminal courts, the proposition is simply monstrous.

We have no disposition to persecute the Senator, and have only published, concerning him, those things which we could not in good conscience conceal when they came to our notice, we have dealt with the subject as leniently as it was possible to deal with it, and our course in the matter has to-day the approval of the virtuous people of Oregon, with hardly an exception. We have too high an opinion of the pure-minded Woman's Rights women of the State, who have in so many ways repelled as an insult the least intimation that they sympathize with the rancid sensuousness of Woodhullism, to believe they will accept as an exponent of their sentiments any apology for the rank atrocities of Hippleism.

The New York Tribune tells about a charming little bit of juvenile romance which comes from a school house in Bennington, Vt., where Cupid had established his invisible and inevitable professorship. The time which should have been devoted to the study of the three R's was wasted in the preparation of billet-doux, sometimes of ten pages in length, and garnished no doubt with many Ahs! not in the least scientific. Mr. Eno Gould, the teacher of the school, not relishing these young and idle dreams, attempted to establish a more ascetic and, we may say, monkish rule. This resulted in a personal contest between the biggest boy, who was too chivalrous to submit to the indignity of a flogging, and his teacher, who was too conscientious not to to try to give it to him. The results were disastrous to common school culture. The eye of the pedagogue was placed in mourning. The lovely little ladies flew out of the windows. "They read no more that day." And the school committee are looking out for a teacher of finer muscular development.

The Spanish Cortes will, on next Tuesday, elect a special commission to draw up a Federal Constitution. The commission will consist of twenty-five members, of whom twelve will be members of the present Cortes, and thirteen representatives of the Federal States. It is said that Castelar will propose to the Cortes a division of Spain and her colonies into the following States; Catalonia, Aragon, Navarre and Biscay, Valencia and Marcia, New Castile, Old Castile, Galicia. Andalusia, Upper and Lower Estramadura, Cuba, Porto Rico, the Baleraic Islands, Canaries and the Philippines.

The New Northwest made its second advent on yesterday. The editress salutes the public. "Again we are ready with pen and voice combined to reach many thousands every week with the gospel of 'peace on earth and good will to men and women,' and to every friend of humanity whose eyes these words shall meet, we say in heart-felt joy, 'All hail.'" We congratulate the courageous publisher, and hope that it shall be many a year before a third salutatory may be necessary.

The divorce suit, in which Madame Pauline Lucca, the prima donna, is plaintiff, has been decided in her favor. Madame Lucca is now living in Rhode Island. She has declared her intention of permanently becoming a citizen of the country.

ELECTION OF JUDGES.—The recent Judicial elections in Illinois prompt the Chicago Tribune to protest against the system of electing Judges by the people. It says the fundamental fallacy of the system is the "assumption that a majority of the people are competent to say what the law is, is not true." It thinks Judges should be appointed, not elected, and should then hold office during good behavior. In conclusion it says: "The Judiciary of Massachusetts has always held a high place in this country, and has escaped the dangers that threaten the judiciary of other States, because it is appointed by the Governor of the State, with the consent of two-thirds of his Council. If we could add to this practice the suggestion recently made by Mr. A. Sydney Biddle of Pennsylvania, that there should be a Governor's Council in every State, consisting of men appointed from among the retired Judges of the Supreme Court, after they have served as long as age and health should permit, the judiciary would escape the manifold dangers that beset it under the present system of which yesterday's election furnished some striking example."—N. Y. Tribune.

EXTRAORDINARY INSTANCES OF PATRIOTISM.—The Paris papers are giving us several touching instances of patriotism. The Gaulois in announcing that a young lady of rank recently took the veil in a Parisian nunnery thinks it proper to reveal a fact which it evidently thinks too good to be lost. Her father's chateau during the war became the headquarters of some twenty Prussian officers. One day on sitting down to dinner one of them forgot himself so far as to clasp the young lady round the waist. She took up a knife and stabbed him to the heart. She was arrested, but released in a day or two on the order of Prince Frederick Karl. The other instance of patriotism is less tragic. An officer, who fought most gallantly at Metz, was sent a prisoner to Germany, and while there fell in love and married a German lady. The other day he returned to Paris and went to his club as usual but to his surprise he was immediately expelled, on the ground that he had married into a Prussian family.

THE UPPER MISSISSIPPI VALLEY.

[OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.]

LESLIE, Michigan, June 5, 1873.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

The weather, which, up to May 14th, the date of reaching Omaha, had been favorable, now suddenly changed. In passing through Iowa the weather had so moderated down that I saw the farmers either generally engaged in digging among the hills of the little corn already planted to see whether it was about to rot or sprout, or starting in to plow under large fields of last year's corn stalks to plant to corn again this year. In Iowa I saw the first grass that looked advanced enough to enable an animal to live on it. Even here there were many forest trees located in low lands that were scarcely beginning to put forth leaves. Their black and denuded branches looked as gloomy and frowning as they did when a few weeks ago the snow drifted in huge piles around their trunks and the mercury in Jack Downing's thermometer sunk "three feet into the ground." In Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois and Michigan I find all complaining of an uncommonly backward spring. Thousands of acres of corn are to day being planted in these States. Between digging after sprouted corn with a jackknife, plowing under corn stalks for more corn, and killing potato bugs with a pair of paddles, the farmers are kept pretty busy. These bugs are said to be worse this year than ever. They cover and eat up the tips pretty well as soon as they appear above ground. I have seen but two or three potato patches up yet, however. In these I see the boys are busy killing bugs and destroying the newly laid eggs, which they find by carefully examining the under side of every leaf. The fact is Providence has pretty much quit blessing farmers over here who do not "watch and pray" a great deal.

As I struck into Illinois the weather turned oppressively hot, and has continued so ever since, with the exception of two cold days, when a man needed an overcoat, and two frosty nights. In Illinois, the climate was horrible. A hot, worse than tropical wind in Peru, full of vapor, blew almost constantly from the south; the sky was lowry overhead, low banks of black threatening clouds, streaked with lightning flashes and grumbling in thunder, everywhere bounded the extensive horizon. From these huge banks, smaller banks of overhanging blackness were shot off and sent on their missions over the country, dodging around as if governed by no fixed laws, emitting nearly every minute blinding flashes of light followed by deep claps of thunder, and pouring such torrents of water on the already half inundated corn fields as they are said to have discharged in the days of Noah. For a few minutes the sun would shine down with an insufferable scalding heat, between two chasing clouds overhead, when the God of Thunder would again drape the world in blackness, touch a match to his artillery, and turn the nozzle of his hose down on Illinois. I found no satisfaction in breathing the hot air, and I felt as though I had been borne again into Hafed's world of chance, or introduced without leave into the realms of thundering Jupiter. I knew there must be mischief brewing somewhere, and feared a hurricane, but nature gave vent to her pangs, just north of me, by kicking up, May 22d,

A TERRIBLE TORNADO

In Iowa and Illinois. I was not an eye witness of it, thank God. So what little I have to say about it I shall quote word for word from the Chicago Inter Ocean correspondence. The track of the tornado was about half a mile wide and extended many miles, killing eighteen or twenty people outright, and wounding many others. But here is what the Inter Ocean correspondent says:

"Houses, barns, fences, trees, cattle, and human beings were caught up and whirled through the air like mere toys, and then dashed to the ground with such violence as to cause instant death with animate beings. Houses and barns were torn to fragments and scattered for miles around. Field are dotted with large timbers driven into the ground at an angle of ninety degrees, and cattle were actually driven head foremost into the ground. One can scarcely conceive of the devastation, or realize the force of the tornado.

"Already we have heard of thirteen farm houses and many barns that were literally torn to pieces, and many others badly damaged. School was in session at Puddleford school house, six miles north, and the tornado tore the building to pieces and carried a 14-year old daughter of Henry Rathmell about a quarter of a mile from the school house, and when found she was mashed to a jelly. Miss Smith, the teacher, and six or eight scholars were hurt, some badly. * * *

"The roaring of the tornado was fearful, and could have been heard easily ten miles. At this place, six miles away, it was perfectly appalling, surpassing in terror anything we ever heard, except the roar and din of a terrible battle.

"Cattle and hogs were killed by the score. Some dead bodies of cattle were found with boards or rails driven clear through them, like a spear. Several cows were seen with tails blown off, legs broken, or necks or limbs dislocated. Chickens were found with every feather blown off of them, as clean as though they had been picked.

"At Keota five people were killed. One woman was struck by the wind and so utterly annihilated that portions of her body were found blown a quarter of a mile from the place where she had been killed.

"Nothing heretofore so terrible and violent has ever befallen the county, and we can only contemplate its devastation with awe, and wonder that so many escaped alive."

Let boys raised in Oregon imagine their astonishment, on going out to hunt the cow, to find that a wind had stoven her "head foremost into the ground," and had then torn down the flying signal of her whereabouts, by "blowing her tail off."

IS HE A PENITENTIARY CONVICT?

In passing through Illinois, I was informed by several people that some person in Portland, Oregon, had written to the Chicago Tribune, correcting the "misrepresentations" contained in the pamphlet—"Oregon as it is." I find the article in the Tribune of May 10th, headed "Oregon," dated Portland, April 23d, and signed H. F. Walton. The writer thinks that the pamphlet "by its high coloring, its specious pretensions to frankness, truthfulness and disinterestedness, is well calculated to convey a very exaggerated impression of the advantages of Oregon." I shall only stop to quote a few statements made by the writer and then leave Oregonians to judge whether this fellow makes any "pretensions to frankness, truthfulness," etc. After informing the Tribune that the pamphlet was gotten up in the interest of a lot of real estate agents, he proceeds:

"I write this because I have already witnessed much dissatisfaction, and suffering, and losses by immigrants who have too readily answered the beckoning words of this and like pamphlets, and come to find the romance of the change all vanished—to find our beautiful valleys covered to a great extent with dense forests, broken by vast ranges of hills, uninviting and rugged, broad tracts of swamp land, irreclaimable except by the expenditure of large sums of money, fern, and brake, and sorrel, matted upon every acre of our lands that has not been cultivated."

"Mr. Adams tells you there are 'no gnats, mosquitoes, bed bugs, fleas, snakes,' etc. If this kind of vermin was wealth, valued at a penny a pound, let me assure you, my dear sir, every man in Oregon would be

"THE AVERAGE YIELD OF WHEAT

To the acre in Oregon is about thirty bushels instead of forty bushels, as Mr. Adams writes. * * * Sixty bushels of corn can be raised exceptionally, fifty bushels can be raised exceptionally, thirty bushels can be raised as an average, and that is a liberal estimate."

POTATOES

May be prolific, too much so. Of that you can judge when I say that to-day, April 22d, potatoes sold in this market at 8 cents per bushel, and they of the best.

"Wild cherries are nowhere in the State so plentiful and so delicious of flavor as in the [illegible]; strawberries, [illegible] raspberries, huckleberries, [illegible], are all one, and [illegible] sweetening [illegible].

"Immigrants [illegible] to the county [illegible] the hands of real estate agents, who make a profit from a [illegible] from $100 to [illegible] each, and [illegible] farms that they are glad to place on the market, the following year [illegible] a profit, to the [illegible].

"Thrifty, scientific farmers with means, good wheat growers, [illegible] who will come, buy off and send adrift the lazy, shiftless crew that encumber the land, would be a thousand times welcomed and a thousand times rewarded."

You will see that this liar not satisfied with lying about the country, lies in pretending to tell what the pamphlet contains he professes to have read. Now "good wheat growers and skilled agriculturalists," are to be "a thousand times rewarded" by leaving this country and moving to "valleys covered to a great extent with dense forests, broken by vast ranges of hills, uninviting and rugged, broad tracts of swamp land, irreclaimable except by the expenditure of large sums of money, fern, brake and sorrel matted upon every acre of our lands that has not been cultivated"—is perhaps plainer to this fellow than it will be to most who read his article in the Tribune. By the way does any person of this name reside in Portland? I do not remember ever having known of but one Walton in Oregon, and he served a term in the penitentiary. He was great on pen writing. The style of this Tribune article seems much like his—besides his knowledge of the State would seem to agree with the idea that he had merely viewed the country through the key hole of a penitentiary. But I took up my pen to give you some idea of the character of

THE MICHIGAN ARTESIAN WELLS

Or magnetic mineral springs which have lately been discovered in this part of the planet earth and which by their effects upon the bodies of diseased human insects, have created quite a buzzing over this way. These wells now number about sixty, located in different parts of the State and belonging to Lansing, St. Louis, Eaton Rapids, Leslie and several other points. No two of these wells are exactly alike either in their depth, flow of water, or in the amount, or kind of minerals held in solution. There are four of them in this little village, not more than forty rods perhaps from a central point to either one of them yet each well has a different taste, and each owner, in true Oregon style among farmers claims that his is the best. The water is thrown from six to fourteen feet above the surface, is quite cold, as clear as crystal and though strongly impregnated with iron and other minerals, has enough free carbonic acid gas (thirteen and a half cubic inches to the gallon) to render it a sparkling and pleasant drink. No water could be more popular. At each well you find tin cups, and go when you will for a drink, you are most sure to find some man, woman or child ahead of you, drinking as for dear life. They drink it because they hate to see it going to waste, they drink it because they like it, and they force it down long after nature cries enough, because they think it "so healthy." Wagon loads of country people "goin' to meetin'," "goin' to mill," "goin' a fishin'" or "goin'" anywhere else, stop at these wells to quench thirst, prolong life and wash Michigan dust down their throats. The horses run their noses into it, and drink only as I had seen oxen drink before, while the village cows, female like, either anxious to be in fashion, or from a natural animal appetite, drink till they are bloated out of natural proportions. Even the fishes in a clear sparkling brook which winds its way through the village, gather in swarms around the very mouth of the conduit that carries the water from these wells to the brook. The people and animals combined, are unable to keep much of this water from "going to waste," as one well alone, discharges 7,200 barrels a day. In bathing in this water I felt a pleasant thrilling sensation shooting over me, something akin to the influence of animal magnetism. In mentioning this to my landlord he remarked, "everybody experiences the same feeling," so I concluded it wasn't all imagination with me.

THE CURES THESE SPRINGS EFFECT

Are numerous and surprising, though now and then, persons with spinal affections, consumption or other chronic complaints, fail to receive any benefit from them. Almost all forms of disease, in all its stages, have been wholly or partially removed in a few weeks or months, by the use of these waters, but they seem best adapted to the relief of dyspeptics, rheumatism, kidney or scrofulous affections. Cases are well authenticated, where partially blind men have been restored to sight, the ears of the deaf have been opened, and where men bowed together with chronic rheumatism, have at length flung away their crutches, and walked erect with the elasticity and buoyancy of tread peculiar to youth. It is also said that in some cases it has canceled death's mortgage on humanity, given by Dr Bright on such as had albumenaria, and given them a new base of life. Whether it will do it in my case, is, as the Irish man said to the Judge, when asked, "Guilty or not guilty?" "Be jabers, and that's what we're about to try." The trial seems to be progressing satisfactorily.

The Russell & Ward well seems to be more strongly impregnated with minerals than any other well in Leslie.

THE ANALYSIS OF THIS WATER

Will satisfy any intelligent physician that it possesses strong curative properties:

Grains solid matter in imperial gallon	63 01
Bi-carbonate of lime	30 62
Sulphate of lime	04
Bi carbonate of magnesia	10 53
Bi-carbonate of iron	2 27
Bi-carbonate of soda	5 27
Bi carbonate of potassia	4 55
Silica	2 08
Organic matter	65
Free carbonic acid gas, cubic inches in gallon	13¾

The proportion of lime is less in this than in some other calcic springs in Michigan, while the proportions of iron, soda, potassa and magnesia, are considerably larger. Some of these springs have

STRONG MAGNETIC PROPERTIES.

The drills came up heavily charged while boring through the rock, and the iron pipe through which the water flows, was found to be capable of imparting polarity to a knife blade or small piece of steel, till it would lift a nail or a trunk key. The same effect was produced on a knife blade when immersed in a bowl of this water for a few hours. Whether this polarity is really imparted by the water, or whether it be simply the re-appearance of terrestrial magnetism, more or less imbibed by all steel rods placed in nearly a vertical position, whether in water or out of it, has been much debated since the discovery of these springs. My own opinion is, that it is not terrestrial magnetism, neither is the water itself magnetic, but the polarity is produced by the chemical action of the alkalies and salts held in solution, upon the iron. The fact that a piece of steel becomes magnetized by lying horizontally in the water, as also the fact that steel becomes polarized after being merely moistened with the water, induces me to believe in chemical action. To be sure here, as in speaking of the attraction of gravitation, I have merely a term to represent a power, the real force, being as inexplicable to me as to a clown. How this magnetic influence is produced on iron, or on men and women, is of small consequence, compared with the fact that its latent presence in the water gives wonderful efficiency to its minerals in solution, in curing disease, if, indeed, it is so. The Russell Ward well is 146 feet deep. They bored 24 feet through earth, seventy six feet through slate, and forty-six feet through sand-stone, when they struck a white, soft porous rock, and out shot the water. The whole thing cost $400. The wells are all different, yet all more or less medicinal. The first well was bored at St. Louis for a salt well. The brine didn't come, the magnetic water did. A loafer magnetized his knife in it, an invalid in town hearing of it, drank it as an experiment, and was healed. The news spread, multitudes came, drank and went away rejoicing. The Michiganders are still boring, hoping to strike the fountain head, the real aqua vitæ, that will turn gray hairs black, bring out a new set of teeth, and so rejuvenate old wives that their husbands will quit hankering after the girls. Let the matrons in Utah and elsewhere, lift their hands to heaven and pray devoutly that God may direct the drill of some lucky Michigander to the right spot. Amen! He shall be more immortal in history than that other gander, whose cackling saved Rome. Leslie has as yet had few visitors, but as the people here are making preparations to accommodate all the [illegible] to come, it will, no doubt soon get its share, as it is easy of access, being on the rail road leading from Jackson to Lansing, thirteen miles north of Jackson and twenty one miles south of Lansing, the Capital of Michigan.

CLATSOP COUNTY, June 19th 1873.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

In your issue of the 14th inst, among your "Farming Items" is one to the effect that at the next Fair a small premium will be offered for the "best gallon of buttermilk." I would like to be informed what constitutes the "best gallon of buttermilk." Is it the size of the measure or the quantity of that that is in it? [illegible] the standard by [illegible] matter [illegible] which shows improper handling [illegible] churning of the cream or the lack of [illegible]. As I have always [illegible] the object of [illegible] and that the one in Oregon [illegible] I would suggest [illegible] form of a label upon the [illegible].

The only other inference is that the [illegible] buttermilk should be considered the best in the eyes of the awarding committee. Why don't they at the same time offer a premium for the best gallon of whey?

FRIDAY MORNING, JUNE 20, 1873

[illegible] Over.—As the express train was speeding towards the south on Wednesday evening, a [illegible] was run over a short distance beyond James [illegible] residence and so badly mangled that [illegible] died soon after. The train was [illegible] rapidly through the cut east of Mr. Ste[illegible] house, when the engineer discovered sever[illegible] of cattle standing on the track. "Down [illegible]" was shrilly sounded and the whistle gave [illegible] notes of warning to clear the track. [illegible] impelled, as it sometimes happens, by a [illegible] and insane instinct, the cattle ran for[illegible] the track, instead of diverging from [illegible] of danger. Once the train came to a [illegible] but the cattle steadfastly refused to leave the [illegible]. At length the engineer shot forward [illegible] the locomotive, in hopes that the noise [illegible] approach of the unwieldy monster [illegible] and iron would frighten the cattle away. [illegible] the train, and the distance interven[illegible] locomotive and the fleeing cattle rap[illegible]. When but a few rods away, all the [illegible] aside but one cow, which seemed de[illegible] to either outstrip the train or perish in [illegible]. Still clinging to the "original propo[illegible]" the foolhardy bovine stuck to the track [illegible] sacrificed—a victim of obstinacy. A few [illegible] of the ponderous drivers and the [illegible] hors du combat, with three crushed legs [illegible] ious injuries. The animal was hurled [illegible] yards and the train dashed on. Sev[illegible] after, the poor mangled creature was still breathing, and was summarily des[illegible] as an act of humanity. The fault of the [illegible] seem to rest equally between the haste [illegible] and the obstinacy of the animal.

[illegible] Unpleasantness.—Mrs. Anderson, who [illegible] proprietress of a boarding house and res[illegible], and Mr. R. H. Cox, an ex-actor, were ar[illegible] day in the Police Court, both on [illegible]. Mrs. Anderson was accused of [illegible] digits on a chapeau claimed by Mr. [illegible] and for refusing to give the same over to the [illegible] of the alleged owner after the demand was [illegible]. Cox tested under the charge of having de[illegible] not his own. Mrs. A. alleged [illegible] kept the hat for the reason that Cox owed [illegible] of fifty cents for meals, [illegible] he persistently refused to liqui[illegible] [illegible] averred that in consequence of [illegible] the old tile, Cox had turned [illegible] and went foraging after the gas fix[illegible] of what she said, Mrs. A. [illegible] two gas burners, which she [illegible] delineator of stage character [illegible] in his rage. Mr. Cox inter[illegible] to the complaint by declaring [illegible] wholly malicious; he also de[illegible] landlady a cent; and was [illegible] he had not engaged in the [illegible] business. The Court, [illegible] all denials, and fined Mrs. [illegible] $10 for [illegible] the hat, and Mr. Cox $10 [illegible] gas-fixtures.

[illegible] rains have caused a [illegible] in the W[illegible] and its numerous trib[illegible] the movement of [illegible] of the river, and [illegible] and logs. A rise in [illegible] has [illegible] a boom of logs to break [illegible]. Yesterday at in[illegible] of the Wall[illegible] was dotted [illegible] of drift-wood, intermingled with [illegible] could be thrived a new boy of saw-logs. [illegible] the eddy of [illegible] early [illegible] near the foot [illegible] Charley [illegible], aided by sev[illegible] persons, [illegible], and after [illegible] able labor [illegible] in "driving" the [illegible] logs into the still water below the pon[illegible], and just to the [illegible] of the Occidental Hotel. With his accustomed vitality Charley [illegible] small cords and spikes and in the course [illegible] half an hour [illegible] log was [illegible] red, and are [illegible] safely moored below the [illegible] landing. These [illegible] are worth considerable, and the owner, who[illegible] may be, ought to [illegible] our friend Zigler [illegible] for his kind [illegible] in "corral[illegible]."

[illegible] Exhibition and Commencement Exercises.—[illegible] examinations of the classes in the [illegible] Academy and Female Seminary will [illegible] on Wednesday, the 25th instant, at 9 [illegible] close on Thursday, 26th, at 4 P. M. [illegible] Friday evening, 7½ [illegible]. The [illegible], patrons and friends [illegible] are all cordially invited to be [illegible] the above exercises. A special in[illegible] ded to the Conference Visiting [illegible], Rev. I. Dillon, D. D., Rev. G. W. [illegible], Rev. Wm. Roberts, Rev. G. H. Atkinson, D. D., and Rev. A. R. Medbury. A full pro[illegible] of the exercises will be given in next [illegible].

Up.—The continued rise of the water [illegible] the tearing up of the planking on the [illegible] bridge, in East Portland, necessary. [illegible] has the water reached the lower side of [illegible] on which rest the plank. A foot more [illegible] force the planking up, lift the bents [illegible] foundations and float timbers and all [illegible] the plank torn up and piled at inter[illegible] thought the buoyancy of the bridge [illegible] will not be sufficient to cause them to [illegible] the present position. However, the [illegible] will be difficult to determine should the [illegible] a point several feet above its present [illegible].

[illegible]zed.—The case of the city vs. S. Kafka, [illegible] of being engaged in the business of deal[illegible] second-hand ware and merchandise with[illegible] having first obtained a license, was called in [illegible] Court yesterday morning. Upon proper [illegible] the cause was continued until this morn[illegible]. This man Kafka should be voted a benefac[illegible] the tax payers of the city, inasmuch as he [illegible] probably paid into the treasury more money [illegible] of fines than any one man in Port[illegible].

[illegible] Answer.—Mr. I. Longstreet, who [illegible] in the shooting affair on Wednesday [illegible] was arraigned yesterday morning for [illegible] examination in the Police Court. A continuance [illegible] of the case was asked until this morning, but it was at [illegible] ded to turn over the matter to the [illegible]. The bail was fixed by the [illegible] defendant released on giving the [illegible].

[illegible] Fine.—Mrs. Morris, a dressmaker [illegible] was arraigned yesterday morning [illegible] in the Police Court. She was accused of selling [illegible] to persons without having obtained [illegible]. The defendant pleaded not guilty, and [illegible] continuance of the case, which was [illegible] ly Mrs. Morris pleaded guil[illegible] and was fined $10 and costs.

[illegible] Gale.—The steamer California encoun[illegible] a terrible gale while off Vancouver's Island [illegible] last voyage to Sitka. The gale lasted for [illegible] time and compelled the vessel to lay to un[illegible] [illegible]ment. No damage resulted to the [illegible], although Capt. Hayes states that the [illegible] was the most severe he has yet experienced [illegible] northwest coast.

Is it Right?—We notice daily a number of [illegible] boys who are in the habit of assembling [illegible] the Public Square, engaged in playing base [illegible]. It has not been long since young maple [illegible] were set out in that locality, and it seems to [illegible] that it must be greatly detrimental to the [illegible] of these tender trees as it is injurious to [illegible] Plaza itself.

Steamer Departs. The steamer Ajax will [illegible] for San Francisco this morning at 8 o'clock. [illegible] will carry hence the following passengers N. [illegible], Mrs. Pardee and three children, L. C. [illegible], A. O. Lindskoy, T. H. McCann, E. Har[illegible], G. H. Seymour, C. Bichard, Levi C. Gilbert, [illegible], W. A. Luelling, R. W. Rising, S. [illegible].

Annual Exhibition.—The annual exhibition [illegible] the pupils of St. Mary's Academy will take [illegible] on the 24th inst., the exercises commencing [illegible] at 9 o'clock A. M., and at 2 o'clock P. [illegible]. The graduating class will be examined in [illegible] morning.

Settled.—Mr. Higgins informs us the reasons [illegible] tearing down a portion of the facade on the [illegible] House building, was because of a settling [illegible] that portion, and not of any fault of the work.

Foot Pans.—A number of heavy castings, in[illegible] ding a quantity of "foot pans," went up the [illegible] this morning. They are intended for the [illegible] Gold and Silver Mine in Baker county.

St. Joseph's School.—The annual examina[illegible] at this parochial school, in charge of Misses [illegible] and Emma Showers, takes place next Fr[illegible] June 27th.

On Ventilation.—Oro Fino Theater was uncomfortably warm last evening, owing to the dense crowd. If the ushers would lower the windows at the top, instead of hoisting them up, a much better ventilation of the room could be obtained. We hope they will adopt this rule in the future. Poison and vitiated air always rises to the ceiling, and if the windows were lowered the unhealthful atmosphere could find means of egress from the room.

The bark Garibaldi arrived in the river on Wednesday evening from Hongkong, and is lying at Astoria. This vessel has on board 250 Chinese passengers, and a full freight of Chinese merchandise. She made the passage from Hong kong to the mouth of the river in 65 days. Fair winds and good weather reported throughout the voyage. The Garibaldi will be up in a few days.

Arrived.—The steamer California reached this port last evening at 6 o'clock, from Sitka and way ports. She brought several passengers and a full freight. The steamer arrived at Astoria on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. She remained at the wharf over night, and started for Portland yesterday morning, at 5 o'clock.

Arraigned.—Peter G. Koch, was arraigned yesterday in the Circuit Court, on a charge of larceny by bailee, and a plea of not guilty entered. The case will come up for trial in a few days.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE

RELIGIOUS, LOCAL AND GENERAL.

[From the P. C. Advocate.]

It is proposed to hold a camp meeting on the conference camp ground at Canby, Molalla Prairie, commencing Saturday, July 5th, to continue as long as may be found profitable.

The camp meeting for Milwaukie Circuit will be held at the old camp ground in Powell's Valley, embracing the third and fourth Sabbaths in July, commencing Thursday before the third Sabbath, and continuing over the fourth Sabbath.

Monday, June 23d, is the time appointed to complete work on the Powell Valley camp ground. The improvements now being made are of a more permanent character than those of the past, and these grounds when prepared will be a delightful place to spend a few days of worship.

Rev. J. S. McCain met the Sabbath School in Powell's Valley on Sabbath last, and, according to previous arrangement, assisted in reorganizing it. Bro. Ernest Geisey was elected Superintendent, and is backed up by a host of efficient teachers. The school now promises to be a grand success.

[From the Catholic Sentinel.]

Archbishop Blanchet administered the sacrament of Confirmation to fourteen persons at the Church of the Sacred Heart, Oregon City, last Sunday morning.

To-day the Church celebrates the feast of the Sacred Heart of Jesus. Though not a holyday of obligation, this feast should be commemorated by the faithful in some special manner, as devotion to that Sacred Heart is particularly pleasing to God.

The religious instruction in the German language, given by Rev. B. Orth, takes place at the usual hour, after the 8 o'clock Mass next Sunday. All Germans who desire to hear the Word of God preached in their native tongue, are invited to attend.

We have incidentally learned that Master Thos. O'Connor, who left here some time since in company with Rev. Father Dielman, for Belgium, to enter one of its celebrated institutions of learning, has arrived in that country, and has transmitted his first impressions of the Old World in a letter to his parents here.

Next Sunday morning at eight o'clock: quite a number of our children will partake of the Bread of Life for the first time, for which they have been duly prepared by religious instructions by the Very Rev. J. F. Fierens, V. G., and Rev. L. Verhaag. At half-past ten o'clock A. M., of the same day, the Most Rev. F. N. Blanchet will administer the sacrament of Confirmation to a large number of children and several adults.

BASE BALL.

June 8th, Union Grounds, New York, Mutuals, 12; Philadelphia, 10.

The Pacific Club has received a challenge from the Clackamas Club of Oregon City, to play next Saturday—28th.

The match game between the Pacific and Pioneer clubs to-morrow afternoon, is the theme of conversation among the devotees of the noble game. Each club will present their best nines on the occasion, and if the boys play as earnestly as they say they will, the closest game of the season may be anticipated, and this fact is sufficient to insure an immense attendance. A report is in circulation that the Pacific nine will "throw the game." The members of that club request us to state that they have refused, decidedly, to countenance any offers to sell out, and they propose going in to win. We regret to learn that such propositions have been held out, and hope we shall not be called upon to mention the subject again. Anything of this kind will have a tendency to injure the game in this vicinity. We trust the match to-morrow will be conducted satisfactorily, and we have every reason to think it will be.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

CIRCUIT COURT—UPTON, J.

Thursday, June 19, 1873.

J. G. Chapman vs H. Thielsen and A. Waltz—substituted therefor as defendant—dismissed by stipulation of parties at plaintiffs' costs.

John A. Bowman vs J. L. Hallett; dismissed for want of prosecution.

William Wadhams, juror, excused for the term.

Bellinger & Burmester vs G. W. Vaughn; judgment on verdict for $729 71 and costs.

W. K. Stubbs vs J. L. Hallett; verdict for plaintiff for $309 40.

J. M. Ritchey, juror, excused until 23d inst.

A. R. Elder vs A. S. Mercer; verdict for plaintiff for $452 56.

A. Ford, juror, excused for the term.

W. H. Watkins vs Multnomah county; dismissed at plaintiff's cost without prejudice.

J. S. Dickinson, juror, excused until June 25th.

J. Kramer & Co. vs C. Goodnough; cause on trial.

PICNICS.

Otto Treuer, who is noted for his enterprise in the excursion and picnic line, proposes to give a grand excursion down the river on the 22d, 23d and 24th of July. A boat has been chartered for the occasion, and a band engaged. The steamer having on board the excursionists, will leave on the 22d and return on the third day thereafter. Astoria and several points on Clatsop Beach will be visited before the steamer returns.

The picnic which was announced to have been given last Sunday by Otto Treuer to Pleasant Grove, was postponed in consequence of the inclemency of the weather. The picnic and excursion will take place on the 29th inst., provided the weather clerk is in an accommodating humor.

PERSONAL.

Mr R G Head, editor and proprietor of the Benton Democrat, gave us a call last evening.

Colonel Johnston, agent of the Liverpool, London and Globe Insurance Company for the Pacific coast, and Mark A. King, local agent for the same company, will leave for Corvallis this morning by train. These gentlemen visit that town to adjust the loss on the large flouring mill which was destroyed by fire a few days ago.

The steamship Ajax, on her last trip to this port, brought from the Santa Clara College, California, several young gentlemen who are on their way home to spend the vacation with their parents and friends. Among those were Mr. James Eldridge, son of E. P. Eldridge, of Marion county, Mr. E. Sheridan and his younger brother, and Mr. C. Flood, of Roseburg, Douglas county.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Albert Vail, general agent for the New Wilson sewing machine, is doing a good business—pretty good proof of the excellent quality of the machines.

We refer our readers to the advertisement in another column of the Marsh Truss Co., of San Francisco, an institution that has gained considerable reputation by their many remarkable cures o Rupture. This Co. is a branch of the celebrated House of Marsh & Co., New York, which has a reputation of nearly forty years and are endorsed by the Medical Faculty wherever they have established branches. We commend the Company to our Ruptured friends, feeling assured they will receive the only legitimate cure for Hernia (Rupture). This Company does not use any worthless washes called "curative compounds" that has never cured Rupture, and are calculated to deceive. Their office is at 315 Montgomery street, San Francisco.

Postal cards have been introduced by McCormick—several packs of them.

Mr. H. Thielsen has assumed the superintendency of the Oregon Central Railroad.

Now is the winter of our discontent past and the sun is again out with his usual fervor.

"Esther, the Beautiful Queen," will be rendered again—for the last time—to-morrow evening.

Miss Batchelder's private school closed for a few weeks yesterday, with an examination.

Weekly Oregonian ready at the business office—Dan Foster, next to Postoffice, has copies.

We learn that the Gov. Grover will go through to Harrisburg on her last trip up the Willamette.

Woodard, the druggist, is storing his surplus goods in his new store room in Carter's building.

Large gangs of Chinamen are engaged in opening streets in the extreme western portion of the city.

Combining pleasure and profit—catching saw-logs yesterday with skiffs as they floated down the current.

Geo. Rogers, formerly of the Herald, is conducting the Benton Democrat in the absence of Mr. Head.

Stone, the jeweller, now temporarily located at 113 First street, expects to move to his new quarters in two weeks.

The new type and other materials intended for the late Herald has been returned to the place from whence it came.

The houses heretofore standing on the north west corner of Alder and Third streets are being moved down Alder street.

With the addition of two butcher shops soon to open, there will be fourteen in the city. The business must be profitable.

The salutatory and also the valedictory at the closing exercises of the St. Mary's Academy, will be delivered by Miss Alphia Dimick.

A prospective "Metropolitan" has made its appearance in the person of a bouncing boy, and the happy father is Policeman Hickey.

The schooner Margaret Crockard was passed by the steamer Dixie Thompson yesterday, some distance below the mouth of the Wallamet.

Messrs. Buchtel & Stolte have sent us a fine "photo" of the Annie Stewart passing through the locks. It is one of Bosco's best efforts.

The water on the O. S. N. Co's wharf is higher by two inches than it was at any time last year. We fear it has not attained its maximum height by several feet yet.

Provoking—the types which made us say yesterday that the Portland Water Company proposed to raise the water from $100 to $7 50 per month after July 1st. It should have been $750.

Most persons would think that the present police force of the city is sufficiently large, but we are called upon to chronicle an addition to the number. Officer Hickey's wife presented him with a fine boy on Tuesday, which weighs eight pounds. The delighted father thinks of resigning in favor of the young M. P.

AMUSEMENTS.

The second rendition of "Esther the Beautiful Queen" was given last evening at Oro Fino Theater. The auditorium was literally packed with the elite of the city. About 700 ladies and gentlemen were present. The cantata was produced in its best and most attractive style, and received much merited applause. Prof. McGibeny can congratulate himself on the success which has thus far attended the production of this beautiful musical composition. "Esther" will be produced for the third and last time to-morrow evening.

Ventriloquism is a very beautiful science when it is practiced with discretion, but Brown's boy admires it with less enthusiasm than he once did. Brown's boy learned the art by watching Blitz, and the other day he was entertaining his little brother by holding an imaginary conversation with a mysterious person who was supposed to be in a Saratoga trunk. When Brown's boy would lift the lid, the voice would grow loud, when he closed the lid the tones would die away. At the close of the performance Brown's boy placed his lips very close to the trunk for the purpose of producing a final effect, when the lid slipped and caught his nose. It was a spring lock, and it snapped and held the ventriloquist firmly. Then Brown's boy, in anguish, got his little brother to help him hold up the trunk, and he lifted all he could with his nose, and the procession wound its way around down stairs in search of Mrs. Brown and the key. After ascertaining with a slipper the toughness of the seams in the last patch on young Mr. Brown's pants, Mrs. Brown released him, and he went to bed, melancholy, and with a nose squeezed as thin as a table knife. He will probably not practice ventriloquism as a profession.

Managing a Wife.—The British husband (to speak within bounds) is sometimes a brute. At Bilston, Eng., the other day, a woman told the stipendiary magistrate that she had been married forty years, and had been beaten by her husband every day since 14,600 distinct and separate beatings. She didn't say whether she enjoyed her married life or not; but, at any rate, her daily discipline doesn't seem to have shortened it.

A citizen of Utica, who felt called on to remonstrate with a female neighbor for her severity in chastising her child, the other day, felt called on to close the interview and leave the house in a few minutes. It was observed that a mop, or dust-brush, two foot-stools, a pot of verbenas, a jar of pickles, and the family dog followed closely after him.

A man in Pennsylvania last week, while ploughing, turned a furrow over his two-year old child. The little one was missed and discovered, senseless, but animation was restored by sousing it in a neighboring creek. The father rode for a doctor, and was unhorsed and severely injured on the way. Both patients are doing well.

Crime in Virginia.—The State of Virginia must be an exceedingly bad section of the United States for nervous people. During the past fortnight there have been eight murders, and one of them horrible enough in detail to make the fortune of a sensation reporter, four of them happening in Richmond, and on the same night.

An enthusiastic Colorado man presented his Oregon bride to his old friend Jim Beans, with the smiling remark, "Jinny, don't you know Beans?" The practically Jinny, misunderstanding the introduction, responded tartly, "You bet I do, when the bag's open."

If you want the woven wire bed, parlor and bedroom suits, the best spring and pure hair mattresses, go to Hurgren & Shindler.

"A friend in need is a friend indeed," and such is Wistar's Balsam to the unfortunate sufferer who has been sowing his wild oats. Warranted to cure all its ... [illegible] ... Agents.

A Favorable Notoriety.—The good reputation of "Brown's Bronchial Troches" for the relief of Coughs, Colds and Throat Diseases, has given them a favorable notoriety.

Sufferers from coughs, colds, bronchitis, pneumonia, croup or whooping-cough, will find relief in Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, which has now been in use nearly half a century, and still maintains its long established reputation as the great remedy for all diseases of the throat, lungs and chest.

OREGON CITY ITEMS.

Under date of the 19th inst. our regular correspondent at Oregon City sends the following:

Yesterday, while the steamer Fannie Patton was coming down the river to this city, when near Champoeg, a sad accident happened. The steward boy, known as Nemie Warner, was in the act of dipping a bucket of water while the boat was under headway, when he was dragged overboard. The poor boy struck out boldly and swam quite a distance, probably 40 yards, but before help could reach him he went down to rise no more. The small boat was lowered as fast as possible, but the steamer being under full headway, it was some time before it reached where he sank. All efforts to recover the body have thus far proved fruitless. The boy was about 16, and was regarded as a good, steady young man. His parents reside at present in Portland.

The Oregon City Seminary will close on Friday, 27th inst. The last three days will be devoted to examination. The school is in quite a prosperous condition. The school year just closing has been probably the best the school has ever enjoyed. The Council is expected to make several improvements on the buildings and grounds during vacation.

The work on the street leading from Ninth street to the basin on the top of the bluff, is approaching completion, and when finished will be quite an improvement to the city.

W. Pope & Co., dealers in tin ware, stoves, hardware, etc., are going to erect a fine brick building on the site of their old stand. Messrs. Brugman & Hedges, contractors, have removed the old building across the street to a vacant lot, moving with it the offices of W. P. Burns, J. P., and L. F. Barin, attorney at law. The recent wet weather has kept things rather dull for a few days.

Children and Snakes.—At Chanceford Pike, about two miles from York, Pennsylvania, several young children belonging to a family residing there, were in the habit of carrying bread to their playground, near the house. This excited the curiosity of the older members of the family, who visited the children's enclosure, and there found a large black snake with a litter of six or eight young ones feeding on the bread, the children standing around. On the approach of the older persons the snakes disappeared.

A Memphis Romance.—Sunday night, while sitting on the back portico, she said to Mr. LaCroix. "I am tired of this. You don't care for me; no one cares for me, and I am tired of this. I don't give a snap of my finger for my life." To her wild remarks Mr. LeCroix replied: "Carrie, it is late, and you had better go to bed." "I will go to bed," said she in a somewhat careless manner, and then went to her room. The funeral occurred Tuesday.

A girl not far from Holton, Kansas, was at a dance last week, and when asked to waltz with one of our city chaps, replied: "I can't dance these whirl-around figures, they always make me puke."

Don't go about with shabby clothes while an opportunity is afforded you to obtain wearing apparel at only a nominal sum. You miss a splendid chance to get a suit of clothing cheap when you fail to call on J. Kohn & Co., 91 Front street, where the counters are crowded with the very latest styles. Twenty dollars will buy a fine outfit there.

If you want pure, fine liquors of any kind, go to E. D. Tyne's, northwest corner of Oak and First streets, agent for the sale of Jessie Moore & Co.'s fine Old Bourbon and Rye Whiskies of Louisville, Ky.

"I say, Tom, that is a nobby suit you have on! I declare I've been trying to get something that will fit me to a dot, and that I can depend on to wear well. Where did you buy them?" "I was passing along First street, that week, and as I turned the corner of Washington street I noticed some fine cloths and furnishing goods. The attraction was so great that I stepped inside, and after selecting the materials, I ordered what may be termed an elegant fitting suit. The place is Fishel & Roberts."

The public mind has been somewhat agitated with the Modoc war, an occasional marine or railway disaster, and the dull times, and the prospect of buying clothing at a figure not large enough to clean a man to the bedrock. The place has been found where you can buy men and boys' clothing, or gentlemen's furnishing goods, at the very lowest prices. It is at Beck & Waldman's, corner of Front and Washington street, where a full assortment of men and boys' clothing, in the latest styles, can be selected from.

Farmers and "Horse Men" are continually inquiring what we know of the utility of Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders, and in reply we would say, through the columns of the Oregonian that we have heard from hundreds who have used them with gratifying results; that is also our experience.

Johnson's Anodyne Liniment may be used to advantage where any Liniment is desirable. In cases of severe cramps and pains in the stomach it is undoubtedly the best article that can be used internally.

Habitual constipation leads to the following results: Inflammation of the kidneys, sick and nervous headache, biliousness, dyspepsia, indigestion, piles, loss of appetite and strength; all of which may be avoided by being regular in your habits, and taking, say one of Parsons' Purgative Pills nightly for four or six weeks.

The Ladies' Pronunciamento.—While protesting against all the old worthless Dentifrices now in the market, the Ladies, with one consent, have adopted the Sozodont as the one thing needful to insure the integrity of the teeth and a fragrant breath.

IS PURELY A VEGETABLE PREPARATION, composed simply of well-known ROOTS, HERBS, and FRUITS, combined with other properties, which in their nature are Cathartic, Aperient, Nutritious, Diuretic, Alterative and Anti-Bilious. The whole is preserved in a sufficient quantity of spirit from the SUGAR CANE to keep them in any climate, which makes the one of the most desirable Tonics and Cathartics in the world. They are intended strictly as a

only to be used as a medicine, and always according to directions.

They are the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. They act upon a diseased liver, and stimulate to such a degree, that a healthy action is at once brought about. As a remedy to which Women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. As a Spring and Summer Tonic, they have no equal. They are a mild and gentle Purgative as well as Tonic. They Purify the Blood. They are a splendid Appetizer. They make the weak strong. They purify and invigorate. They cure Dyspepsia, Constipation, and Headache. They act as a specific in all species of disorders which undermine the bodily strength and break down the animal spirits.

LYON'S
KATHAIRON
Only 50 Cents per Bottle.

It promotes the GROWTH, PRESERVES the COLOR, and increases the Vigor and BEAUTY of the HAIR.

Over Thirty Years ago Lyon's Kathairon for the Hair was first placed in the market by Professor E. Thomas Lyon, a graduate of Princeton College. The name is derived from the Greek "Kathairo," signifying to cleanse, purify, rejuvenate, or restore. The favor it has received, and the popularity it has obtained, is unprecedented and incredible. It increases the Growth and Beauty of the Hair. It is a delightful dressing. It eradicates dandruff. It prevents the Hair from turning gray. It keeps the head cool, and gives the hair a rich, soft, glossy appearance. It is the same in Quantity and Quality as it was over a Quarter of a Century ago, and is sold by all Druggists and Country Stores at only 50 Cents per Bottle.

COLEMAN'S EUCALYPTUS
Dr. J. S. Coleman's Compound Extract of Eucalyptus is a preparation combining all the valuable medicinal qualities of the Eucalyptus, which is cultivated in nearly every California garden for its medicinal utility, having become the household remedy for all diseases of the KIDNEYS, BLADDER and URINARY CANAL, and SEMINAL WEAKNESS. It seems to have a direct affinity for the GENITO-URINARY ORGANS and their surroundings, and cures them by its alterative, healing and balsamic properties more effectually than any other known remedy.
It is an invaluable remedy for all diseases of the mucous and serous membranes, such as BRONCHITIS, HACKING COUGH, NAUSEA DURING PREGNANCY, DYSPEPSIA, LEUCORRHŒA, etc.
This preparation is the result of Dr. Coleman's experiments with the medicinal properties of the tree in the U. S. Marine Hospital in San Francisco, in 1871 and 1872, where he had unusual facilities for testing the various methods of preparing the remedy, and its uses. It can be relied upon as certain to give the promised results, and hundreds of testimonials of its efficacy can be seen at his office, 415 Kearney street, San Francisco.
COLEMAN'S DOUBLE EXTRACT OF EUCALYPTUS is a powerful, yet harmless, febrifuge, and is a special preparation for the treatment of the malarious fevers of our interior valleys, and is warranted to cure any case of FEVER AND AGUE treated with it according to directions, while the baneful results of the usual Quinine and arsenical remedies for those diseases are entirely avoided.
FOR PHYSICIANS, Coleman's Fluid Extract of Eucalyptus in 1 lb bottles.
Beware of imitations, and take none but COLEMAN'S. For sale everywhere, and by Hodge, Calef & Co., Wholesale Druggists, Portland. Sole Agents for Oregon.

FOREIGN NOTES.

Five of the nine members of President McMahon's new Ministry are journalists or authors.

Vienna is the only large city in Europe that has thoroughly adopted the American street-car system. Indeed, in many respects the system has been improved.

It is now the fashion in Paris at receptions for ladies to sit in the centre of the room, back to back, on a large ottoman, and on sofas against the walls, the gentlemen stand and walk around the bee-hive. Of course, no position can be more effective for the display of dress.

On the day of the opening of the Universal Exhibition at Vienna the telegraph station there received 10,567 dispatches, that is to say, nearly 2,000 more than had been presented on the busiest day previously. Many of those messages were for foreign countries, and contained from 200 to 1,000 words.

Germany is about to build a canal from the North to the Baltic Sea. When this canal is completed the German navy will have the advantage of the interior lines, and no enemy can undertake to blockade the coast without having fleets in the Baltic and North seas, and each of sufficient strength to meet the entire German navy.

Yet another house rich in historical associations is about to pass under the auctioneer's hammer this summer. We refer to Daylesford house, Worcestershire, the favorite abode of Warren Hastings, a place to which he was the more attached as having belonged to a branch of the ennobled family of Hastings, with which he claimed connection, and who lived there as wealthy squires until reached by the civil war.—Manchester (Eng.) Guardian.

The demands of a German fleet in case of war, in 1882, according to a memorial before the Reichstag, would be 1 admiral, 3 vice admirals, 4 rear admirals, 22 captains, (at sea) 63 corvette captains, 165 lieutenant captains, 229 lieutenants, (at sea,) 244 sub-lieutenants, (at sea,) 89 paymasters and storekeepers, 55 engineers, 1,693 deck and sub-officers, 10,267 sailors, 304 machinists, 570 machinists' mates, 233 assistant engineers, 2,131 firemen, 41 masters, 371 masters' mates, 698 artisans, 141 hospital assistants, and 300 boys.

A Lost Patient.

Some time since a lady called upon a celebrated oculist in order to consult him on account of her eyes, complaining that their power of vision had of late considerably diminished. At a glance the doctor saw that she was a lady of rank and wealth. He looked at her eyes, shook his head, and thought the treatment would require much time, as there were reasons to fear amaurosis in her case. He must advise her, first of all, that as she had informed him she was living a considerable distance in the country, she must move into the city at once, and thus enable him to see her frequently—if possible daily.

The lady then rented an elegant mansion, moved into the city, and the physician was punctual in his attendance. He prescribed this and that, and thus days ran into weeks and weeks into months. The cure, however, was still coming. The physician tried to console her.

One day the physician hit upon a curious scheme, and she waited not long enough to carry it into effect. She procured for herself a very old and poor attire, put a hood of tremendous size upon her head, took an old umbrella and a market-basket in her hand, and in these habiliments she visited her physician, selecting for the purpose a very rainy day. She had so well succeeded in distorting and disguising herself that the eye even of a lover could scarcely have recognized her. She was obliged to wait a long time in the ante room of her physician, with many others, who, like her, were seeking relief. At last her turn came.

"Well, my good woman, what have you to complain of?"

"Very bad eyes, doctor," she answered.

He took her to the light, looked into her eyes, but failed to recognize his patient. Shrugging his shoulders, said:

"Your eyes are well enough."

"Well?" she said.

"Yes, I know what I am saying."

"But I have been told that I was getting the a a I forgot how it is called."

"A [illegible]?"

"Yes, that is it, doctor."

"Don't you let them make you believe any such nonsense. Your eyes are a little weak, but that is all. Your physician is an ass!"

"An ?"

"Yes, an ass! Tell him boldly that I said so."

The lady now arose, and in her customary voice said: "Sir, you are my physician; don't you know me?"

The face the sage counselor made is easier to imagine than describe.

"Gracious, madam!" He commenced to stammer an apology, but the lady would not listen to him, and left him indignantly. She never saw the gentleman any more.

Dueling in Chicago.—Dueling in Chicago is thus described by a French newspaper: If ever a nation considered dueling as a serious business, it is the American nation. One day a Cincinnati merchant was challenged by a Chicago banker. The challenge was sent by telegraph, and these telegrams were exchanged: Cincinnati to Chicago: "Challenge accepted; come to Cincinnati to settle the conditions." Chicago to Cincinnati: "I shall do no such thing; why should I, and not you, take the trouble to travel?" Cincinnati to Chicago: "Because my wife is in child-bed." Chicago to Cincinnati: "All right; expect me in the next train." The Chicago banker found the Cincinnati merchant at the railway station, and asked the latter: "Well, are you ready for the fight? Why in the deuce are you so pale?" "Because I am afraid I am a ruined man; my correspondent at Havre has ceased making me his usual remittances." "By Jove! that's bad." "I set out for Havre to-morrow; we will fight when I return." "I shan't quit you." They embarked on the same steamship. When they reached Havre, the Cincinnati merchant finds his correspondent has run off to Canton with all the money he could raise. They go after him. They find and arrest him, bring him back to Havre, have him tried, convicted and put in the penitentiary. This prosecution lasts about six months. After they have seen the rogue put in the penitentiary, they return to America. They had now been travelling together for two years, and had come to love each other like brothers. Nevertheless, the day after they reached Chicago the banker said: "By the way, we have almost forgotten our duel. We have to fight." "To be sure we must." The following day they fought on the lake shore with rifles; the distance was twenty paces. Both fell mortally wounded, and their last breath expired saying, "All right."

A Moravian Cemetery.—A letter from Salem, North Carolina, to the Richmond Enquirer gives the following:

In the Moravian Cemetery, in Salem, they separate and classify their dead—male infant from female; the old from the young; the married from the unmarried, they won't bury the husband by his wife. The dead are all placed on an equality. The tombstones are all alike, being small blocks of marble a foot square, that they place at the head of the grave. No different tombstone is allowed. Neither can you find a single epitaph. Some of the graves are over 100 years old. One, a negro's, reads, "Abraham Niger, Guinea, died April 12, 1770." On Easter mornings, soon after midnight, the Moravians get up and march to the cemetery with a band of music in front, and the procession tapered off from the youngest to the oldest person, who brings up the rear. They remain in the cemetery playing music, and conducting services until morning. It is said they go there to see the dead rise. When a Moravian dies in Salem, instead of tolling the bells, they announce the death with a band of music in the church belfry. They have three different tunes: One for the old, one for the young, and one for the married. An old inhabitant's death is blown out soft and solemn, and with lengthened notes.

In Montana they have wooden weddings at which the guests knock each other down with a club; least ways that was how it happened at a recent "happy event."

We find that less complaint is being made of a tight money market than for some time past, though there has never yet been a season when there might not be found grumblers who declared that the times were hard, business dull and money scarce. We believe that at no time in 18 months past has there been less real cause for th[illegible] complaint than at present. True there is not that activity prevailing that was enjoyed in some former periods of our history as a commercial city, but our people as a community are not in close circumstances, living well, and some of them extravagantly for a new country, and our business men meeting their liabilities, as a general thing, without serious embarrassment. Some may argue that because wages are lower than they were when mining monopolized the attention of this part of the Union and men were attracted away from other pursuits by fresh excitements of gold discovered almost every week, that times are harder, but we believe if they will make a careful estimate they will find that the chances for accumulation are now very nearly as good as then, for the ultimate prosperity of our country depends on its agricultural resources and the sooner all come to realize that fact the sooner will that era come from which can be dated our permanent improvement.

We find that an article, first published some time ago, written by Prof Atwater, is being extensively copied by commercial journals. Of the many theories advanced as a panacea for financial ills, it is one at least worthy of attentive reading. Pointing out the evils patent to all observers of the effects of an arbitrary and inflexible reserve which denies the use of that reserve in cases of necessity, he indicates the antidote to the monetary strictures is a free use of the legal tender reserve in loans when needed, and while not favoring any change in the law which would do away with the amount now required, or a decrease of its rate of percentage to liabilities, he favors the keeping of a varying reserve, which shall show 25 per cent. on hands as the average of the year, allowing the banks to make use of their resources as they see fit during seasons of stringency, so that in times of monetary ease they so advance their resources that at the end of the year they will have had on hands an average of twenty-five per cent. of circulation and deposits—storing up in time of plenty ample surplus against the time of famine.

In support of this theory he cites the example of the Bank of England, which under its charter, as framed by Sir Robert Peel, the principle of an inflexible reserve was required, but that experience has taught its managers a truth of which they act, that the knowledge than an ample reserve exists on which it will draw at pleasure, imparts steadiness to the market and reduces the amount of loans of a precautionary character which helps largely to intensify any existing stringency.

The Boston Money market, as before reported, is quite easy. A late exchange says that choice business paper finds quick purchasers. Rates are considered low enough by those who pay them. Between the banks there is scarcely any borrowing of Clearing House balances—some institutions are willing to take them at 4 per cent and pay off what they owe at 5.

At New York, the amount of Money offering on the market for temporary use, is in excess of the present wants of borrowers, and lenders find considerable difficulty in obtaining employment for their surplus funds at current rates of interest. Call-loans are chiefly made upon approved securities at 5@6 per cent. Loans are in some cases offered in large sums on three months' time at 7 per cent. The best commercial paper continues in active demand from dealers at 7@9 per cent per annum discount.

At Pittsburg, Money remains easy, and the supply is amply sufficient for all the legitimate demands of trade. Rates are steady at from 9 to 12 per cent per annum for first-class paper, the greater part of the business being done at 10@11.

At Chicago, deposits at the banks are as large as they have been for six months, and the supply of Money offered in the open market is large enough to make a good demand for business paper. There is considerable currency being sent to the various Wheat markets in the Northwest, to be used, doubtless, in paying for Wheat which is now coming into the country stations much more rapidly than of late.

Home Produce Market.

The business of city dealers under this head this week has been somewhat less in the aggregate than last, owing to interruptions, first, by the municipal election and then by the heavy rains. The receipts of produce have been generally sufficient however to supply all present demand. Prices have been steady with the fewest exceptions.

WHEAT—The demand is rather more active as shippers are preparing to load one or two vessels soon to arrive. Owing however to anticipations of large crops both in Oregon and California and prospective high rates for tonnage prices improve but little if any, and we hear of no offers above $1 60@1 65 per cental. At this figure considerable lots are being secured.

FLOUR—Owing to a lessening demand and low rates in San Francisco our market is rather weaker, and though holders do not seem inclined to mark down prices, trade is dull. Our quotations are continued at $5 per bbl for standard brands of extra; good country brands command $4 25@4 75 in jobbing lots, fine $4; superfine, $3 75.

OATS—The call for shipment, as well as for local consumption is dull, and prices are drooping and weak. We note considerable lots as coming to hand, but producers are dissatisfied with returns, as no advance on 60 cents, per bushel, sacks included. This figure is for best quality.

BARLEY—The market is short and prices remain firm at $1 45@1 50 ℔ cwt.

FEED—For local consumption the demand is quite good, but is fairly supplied by our State mills. Bran is quotable at $20 in jobbing lots, though dealers pay rather less on the wharf. This also includes sacks, estimated at $2@3 per ton. Shorts and middlings are steady at $28@$30 ℔ ton.

HAY—The demand is dull and receipts light. We quote good baled timothy at $15 ℔ ton.

POTATOES—The new crop is coming in, in better supply and selling at 2@2½ cents ℔ lb. Old in fair demand at 50@60 cents ℔ bushel.

ONIONS—There are but few of last year's in the market. Prices given last week are well maintained.

BUTTER—There is no diminution in the supply, though much of it is of poor quality. A merchant this week received a lot which showed "a trick of the trade" played by an "honest" farmer. Inside of a two pound roll was found over a pound of potatoes. The maker of that butter has been spotted, but it would seem useless for careful dairymen to try to sustain or establish a fair reputation for Oregon butter while others are guilty of such disreputable practices. We quote good at 16@22c ℔ lb.

CHEESE—Oregon-made cheese is in fair supply at 15@17c ℔ lb.

EGGS—Some diminution in receipts has created a better demand, but it will probably be rapidly supplied. Prices vary with immediate wants of buyers, the current rates being 14@16c ℔ dozen.

BACON—The supply noted heretofore as abundant is well kept up, and prices, though firm, seem little inclined to appreciate. Of fair country-cured, current rates are 8c for shoulders, 10@11c for sides, 13½@15c for hams. Sugar cured, an advance of 3 to 5c.

HIDES—There is some inquiry at current rates, though the supply is nearly adequate. We quote green at 6@7c ℔ lb, green salted at 7@8c, salted 14@15c, culls 12½. Several lots received have been considerably damaged by worms and sold at reduced rates.

WOOL—The market this week has presented rather more activity, there being several buyers, all of whom are endeavoring to secure lots at current rates. The demand may therefore be called better, though quotations furnished us are but little higher than those furnished last week. We note the arrival of several bales from up the Columbia, which are to cost the buyers the equivalent of 22c ℔ lb on the wharf here. We quote at 20@23 cents ℔ lb.

LINSEED OIL—Pioneer Mills, Salem, is quotable in this market at $1 10 for raw and $1 15 for boiled ℔ gal.

FLORENCE!

THE BEST SEWING MACHINE IN THE WORLD. It does more work, more kinds of work, better work, and does its work easier than any other machine.

If there is a FLORENCE within a thousand miles of Portland not giving entire satisfaction, if I am informed of it, I will attend to it without expense of any kind to the owner.

We have the new style of FLORENCE machine that feeds the work away from the operator (like the Howe or Singer) to meet the views of those preferring that style of Machine.

I have located permanently at Portland, and shall keep constantly on hand a large assortment of all of the latest styles of the Florence machines. Call and see them before purchasing elsewhere.

I have also the agency for the celebrated NONOTOCK CO SEWING SILK and TWIST; JOHN CLARK JR. & CO'S SPOOL COTTON, WILLISTON'S C. L. MACHINE THREAD; BAILEY'S PARAFFINE SEWING MACHINE OIL.

Sold on the installment plan.

DR. C. G. GLASS.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY street, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands stay until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible, life destroying maladies, see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his special study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case, without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all, in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, the should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

Marriage.

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Patients at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicine promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in a registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union.

All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus bills, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco, Post Office Box 1,957.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they saw his advertisement in the Daily Oreg. Adv. ly6d4p4
